

California Job Journal Serving Northern California since 1982

This WEEK

March 8, 2009

By CJJ Staff

Health Insurance Assistance for Unemployed

State Insurance Commissioner Steve Poizner has endorsed a website designed to help people who may have lost their health insurance along with their jobs. CoverageForAll.org, operated by the nonprofit Foundation for Health Coverage Education, provides access to hundreds of state and federal health insurance programs that meet a variety of individual needs. Even before the recession, an estimated one in five Californians lacked health insurance at some time during the previous 12 months.